History

Iran is home to one of the world's oldest continuous major civilizations, with historical and urban settlements dating back to 4000 BC. It has had a significant role in urbanization during the history of humankind.

Persian Empires could present an elegant view due to the majestic castles and stone palaces, which were unbelievably eye-catching. Beautifying the face of the city by various types of stones signifies a wide range of stone sources in Iran.

About Mahkam

Stone is the most precious and glamorous portion of nature. The house you belong to, the office you work at, the hotel you stay at, the surface you walk on, the wall you lean on are all clearly defined by the natural materials surrounding you.

Natural stone inspires a spiritual feeling of glory and liveliness. Marble more than any other finish, delivers a sense of subtle, chic and grand style; thanks to a carefully selected quality, a space becomes a landmark.

Extracted from the heart of quarries in the dry Iranian deserts, Mahkam Marbles are quite exquisite. Some of these unique marble quarries are owned and directly operated by Mahkam Stone.

Our Quarrying Industry is one of the oldest in the country. For years quarrying has been an integral part of our industrial heritage.
